

2023 CORPORATE OPPORTUNITIES PACKAGE

OUR MISSION Rooted in Skid Row through music, community, and openhearted inclusion of the most marginalized members of society, Urban Voices Project amplifies artistic expression to improve well being, strengthen social networks, and inspire individuals to be their own best advocates.

OUR VISION To place music & singing community spaces in every medical and social service site across Los Angeles, to create community and a more comprehensive, holistic system for engaging individuals coping with the conditions of homelessness.

OUR HISTORY Urban Voices Project (UVP) was conceived in 2014 as an 8-week community partnership between the Colburn School and Wesley Health Centers founded by Colburn instructor, Leeav Sofer, and Wesley Community Outreach Coordinator, Christopher Mack. At the conclusion of the initial project, the co-founders recognized an ongoing need to bring the power of music directly to individuals marginalized by homelessness, mental health challenges, and unemployment, so they continued to provide programming on a volunteer basis. In January 2018, Urban Voices Project secured fiscal sponsorship and launched as a nonprofit organization, obtaining independent 501 c3 status in October 2018.

OUR PROGRAMS

UVP programs celebrate community and peer advocacy through three weekly music workshop offerings that promote positive engagement and change among individuals, families, and community-based organizations: Neighborhood Sing, Family Sing, and Music Labs.

Neighborhood Sing is an immersive music engagement workshop that cultivates self-expression and community involvement. This workshop aims to improve mental health and develop social and emotional learning.

Family Sing workshop serves families in under-resourced neighborhoods through fun, holistic 30-minute classes designed to address adverse childhood experiences and developmental needs.

For participants who show a specific interest in honing their musical skills or developing the tools and techniques to use music for stress management and wellness outside the workshop space, UVP offers Music Labs in Music Theory, Performance Technique, and Music Wellness.

OUR IMPACT

Group singing naturally and directly addresses many complex psychosocial needs:

PHYSICAL

Singing requires controlled breathing that regulates the heart rate, triggers a relaxation response and brings the system to a homeostasis that generates feelings of wellbeing. Vocalizing improves posture, releases muscle tension and reinforces a mind/body connection.

SOCIAL

Singing eases isolation and loneliness, quickly builds bonding in groups, encourages and supports positive social interactions, and ultimately combats the disintegration of communities and improves broader social networks.

PSYCHOLOGICAL

Singing demands focused concentration, improves mood, invites exploration and self-expression of difficult emotions and gradually builds self-esteem

A HOLIDAY CALLED HOME

December 16 2023

This annual holiday event is inspired by UVP's first original single and music video "A Holiday Called Home," built on lyrics from songwriting workshops in Skid Row. A Holiday Called Home Celebration is conceptualized entirely by UVP choir members, who designed the event as a way to engage with and give back to the community.

The celebration includes the following:

- Music making
- Sound healing
- Engaging visual arts activities
- Opportunities to purchase art pieces from Skid Row artists
- A distinct spirit of service, with warm meals, hygiene kits, winter wear clothing items, COVID-19 & flu vaccines, wellness checks distributed to attendees in need.
